DETAILED ACTION

Status of the Application

[1] The Art Unit location of your application in the USPTO has changed. To aid in correlating any papers for this application, all further correspondence regarding this application should be directed to Art Unit 1656.

[2] Claims 23-35 are pending in the application.

[3] Applicant's preliminary amendments to the specification and the claims, filed on 5/21/2004 and 2/5/2004, are acknowledged. The claim listing filed on 5/21/2004 appears to correct the deficiency and replaces all prior versions and listings of the claims.

[4] In the interest of compact prosecution, it is suggested that applicant update the status of application 09/462,846 in the claim to priority in the specification at p. 1. According to USPTO records, the application has issued as US Patent 6,762,039.

[5] It is noted that claims 34-35, which depend from the method of claim 31, recite "[t]he host cell."

Election/Restrictions

[6] Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 23-30, drawn to a gram-positive microorganism having a mutation or deletion of part or all of the gene encoding CP3, classified in class 435, subclass 252.3.

II. Claims 31-35, drawn to a method for the production of a heterologous protein in a Bacillus host cell, classified in class 435, subclass 69.1.

[7] The inventions are distinct, each from the other because:

[8] The gram-positive microorganism of Group I and the method of Group II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the method of Group II can be practiced using a Bacillus host cell other than the cell of Group I, e.g., a non-mutant Bacillus host cell.

[9] MPEP § 803 sets forth two criteria for a proper restriction between patentably distinct inventions: (A) The inventions must be independent or distinct as claimed and (B) There must be a serious burden on the examiner. As shown above, each of the inventions of Groups I-II are independent or distinct, thus satisfying the first criterion for a proper restriction. MPEP § 803 additionally states that a serious burden on the examiner may be prima facie shown if the examiner shows by appropriate explanation either separate classification, separate status in the art, or a different field of search. Each of the inventions has separate classification and due to the recited limitations of the claims of each group, the distinct inventions require a separate patent and non-patent literature search and thus, co-examination of the inventions of Groups I-II would be a serious burden on the examiner.

[10] Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

[11] Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Rejoinder

[12] The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and a product claim is subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be rejoined in accordance with the provisions of MPEP § 821.04. Process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the patentable product will be entered as a matter of right if the amendment is presented prior to final rejection or allowance, whichever is earlier. Amendments submitted after final rejection are governed by 37 CFR 1.116; amendments submitted after allowance are governed by 37 CFR 1.312.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103, and 112. Until an elected product claim is found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowed product claim will not be rejoined. See "Guidance on Treatment of Product and Process Claims in light of In re Ochiai, In re Brouwer and 35 U.S.C. § 103(b)," 1184 O.G. 86 (March 26, 1996). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, Applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution either to maintain dependency on the product claims or to otherwise include the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder.

Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
